“ Ann and I are cousins, however, we grew up more as sisters as our mother's were close as sisters too. Even though her family lived in IL she would bring her gifts from Santa and place them under our family tree to open on Christmas morning. So many great memories over the years. So glad I got to spend some time with you during your last day. I will always feel in my heart that you knew I was there as we held hands and your would attempt to open your eyes.
